Instructions

-Pull through with the new color on the last step of the stitch.

-Lay whichever color you aren't using along the top of your work and crochet over it as you go.

-To avoid your yarn getting twisted as you carry it along your work, it helps to always keep one color to the front and one color to the back each time you switch colors.

Chain 122 (Pattern repeat is 11 + 1 if you'd like to make your own size) in Angel White.

Row 1: In the second chain from the hook, SC. In the next space, DC. Alternate SC and DC for the next 9 chains. Insert your hook into the 11th chain space, yarn over and pull up a loop but then stop, and change colors. Pull through and finish the SC with the baby grey marl. DC into the next stitch with the new color, and crochet OVER the Angel White. You are bringing it along with you. Underneath and through your work. You will be changing colors every 11 stitches.

Row 2: Chain one and turn. You should have ended the row with a SC and with Angel White. Bring the Baby Gray Marl around the end of your work and continue crocheting over this strand. Work your first SC into the SC you just made of the row below. Then, work a DC into the next DC. Continue this alternating pattern and before you finish the 11th stitch, pull up the Baby Gray Marl to change colors. Now work the next 11 stitches with the new color, switching back to the Angel White in the 11th stitch. Finish to the end of the row, chain one and turn.

Rows 3 - 8: Continue switching colors every 11th stitch. Pull through the last stitch with the Baby Gray Marl chain one and turn.

Row 9: Cut off the white, leaving a long end to weave in later, about nine inches. Work your alternating SC and DC into the next 11 spaces. However, at the 11th stitch, pull through with Baby Gray. Now work the pattern across alternating Baby Gray Marl and Baby Gray. Continue for 8 rows.

Repeat this pattern for the rest of the blanket. Make it 11 blocks wide by 11 blocks high, or however you'd like to make it.

For the border, first I wove in all the ends with the tapestry needle. Then, I simply inserted my hook in any stitch on the side of the blanket and worked a row of SC all the way around, working 3 SC into each corner. I joined at the end of the round, chained one and did one more round of SC into each SC, working 3 SC into each corner again. Then joined, cut the yarn and wove in the last end.
